 Second Grade Evening Entertainment
 Week of April 4-8, 2011

Last Week

- We have been reading The Keeping Quilt, by Patricia Polacco; a story about a family heirloom. Since we are all very aware of what an heirloom is and what an important role it plays in our lives, there were many meaningful discussions during our reading groups this week. Not only were we excited to learn about the main characters Great-Gramma and Anna's family heirloom, but we enjoyed sharing information about our own heirlooms in our small groups.
- "Eureka, I found it!" You may ask, "What does this mean?" Just ask your second grader, and they will be happy to tell you that this is the state motto for California. Last week we researched many interesting and important facts about California. We worked with partners to answer questions that we turned into quiz questions! We studied so hard and guess what? We all got 100 percent and are all experts on our great state of California! The information we used to learn about California will be similar to the information we will use when we begin researching for our country studies, which we will start next week. We are so excited to embark on this project and learn even more about where we came from!
- Did you know that adding is the opposite of subtracting? Some of us showed our understanding of this concept this week in math and are now well versed in checking over their math problems using the opposite operation. We have all been practicing with our teaching skills as we check our friends' math problems!
- If needed to put a fence around your pool, what would you be measuring? That's right, the perimeter of the pool. What if you wanted to place carpet in your living room, what would you be measuring? Yes, that would be the area. We have been practicing our measuring skills and thinking of real life examples when we would need to find the perimeter and area of an object.

This Week
